First Store Opens In Antioch's New Plaza

The opening of Antioch's new A & P store Tuesday morning also marked the official opening of Antioch's new shopping plaza on Orchard St.

Ribbon cutting ceremonies at 8:45 a.m. Tuesday were performed by Mayor Murrill Cunningham and attended by both local officials and A & P officials. Present were Dr. John Vermeren and Fred Walpole, from the Antioch Savings and Loan; Russell Barnstable and Elmer Rentner, from the First National Bank of Antioch; Richard Miller, president of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce; Ed Vos, of the Antioch Lumber & Coal; Mr. Kaiser, former manager of the A & P store in Antioch, now a Field Supervisor; William Farmer, present manager of the local A & P, and several Chicago officials of the A & P Stores.

Shoppers thronged the aisles of the new store all day to take advantage of opening offers and look over the new building. The coffee lounge, serving free coffee, was a popular spot. Opening specials included a 5-pound bag of sugar, free except for tax;

THE FIRST SHOPPER in the new A&P store, Mrs. John Larson of 20 Hennings Court, is greeted by A&P's plaid stamp girl, Jean Swanson. The store opened its doors to shoppers for the first time at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

License Plate Deadline Still February 15th

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 8—Secretary of State Paul Powell announced today that the deadline for displaying of the 1965 license plates would remain at midnight February 15, 1965.

Powell said he would notify law enforcement agencies not to arrest anyone for failure to display 1965 passenger car plates if they produce satisfactory evidence of the fact that their application for plates had been filed with the Secretary of State prior to February 1, 1965. He also said that his office would cooperate in helping any person incorrectly charged with failure to display their passenger car plates by furnishing evidence that they had made application prior to February 1st.

"Our figures," Powell said, "indicate that only a small percentage of the total passenger vehicle owners who have made application might be inconvenienced by being stopped for failure to display current plates."

Powell refused to comment on the recent charge by his predecessor, William H. Chamberlain, now a Circuit Court Judge, that Republican holdovers had "sabotaged" activities in the reassignment and mailing of passenger license plates. He did refer to the fact that as yet he has not completed a full month in office and said, "I feel a little bit like the California Congressman who, thirty days after being sworn into office, received an irate letter from a constituent saying, 'During your campaign you promised to reforest the Sierra Madre Mountains and you have not done so yet. How come?'"

Crackdown On Teen-Age Drinkers Urged

The Illinois Liquor Control Commission is planning a state-wide crackdown on under-age drinkers.

The Liquor Commission has requested the cooperation of all local Liquor Control Commissioners, State's Attorneys, Chairmen of County Boards, Sheriffs, Mayors, Presidents of Villages, Chiefs of Police and all other law enforcement officials in the State. The local officials are urged to prosecute persons under 21 years of age who purchase or have in their possession alcoholic beverages in violation of the Liquor Control Act.

The program, called "Operation Minus 21" is aimed at halting the problem of teen-age drinking.

The Commission has prepared a pamphlet explaining the law regarding the purchase or possession of alcoholic beverages and some of the problems young people create for themselves if they violate the law.

More than one million copies of the pamphlet are being prepared for distribution in schools, parent-teacher organizations, civic groups and places selling alcoholic beverages.

The Commission points out that where young people have been found to possess liquor, the violation has frequently

Four Foreign Students At Coffee Hour

Those who attended the coffee hour given by the American Field Service at the High School cafeteria last Sunday had a chance to get some first-hand impressions from four foreign students who are attending area high schools under the auspices of the Field Service.

Present for the coffee hour were Masaji Okubo, Antioch High's Foreign Exchange student from Japan; Maija Holjer, from Finland, attending Grayslake High School; Rosa Weisshaar, Venezuela, now attending Waukegan High, and Kenji Kojima, another native of Japan, also attending Waukegan.

Masaji and Kenji had met when they left Japan together, with other students coming to the U. S. They also made the trip cross-country from the West Coast together.

Representatives of several civic organizations were present to hear details of the Exchange program. The Antioch Chapter of the American Field Service needs a local family to take in Antioch's foreign student for next year's school year.

Any family interested may contact Harrison Brown at the Antioch High School or Howard Shepard at The Antioch News.

Pinocle Fans Deal Long-Shot Hand

A million-to-one (or thereabouts) shot card hand was dealt in a recent pinocle game played by three Antioch couples.

The three couples, who play together once a week, are Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Gehrig, Rt. 4, Box 171, Antioch; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vendt, California subdivision, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kranz, Fetter's subdivision. The six were playing at the Kranz home.

Frank Gehrig won the bid in Clubs. When the hand was finished, he discovered that the two teams opposing him held the same run in Clubs, and the same marriage in Diamonds, that he did. Needless to say, Mr. Gehrig didn't make his bid.

We're not pinocle experts, but Mr. Gehrig assures us that that experts say the chances of such a coincidence are in the astronomical numbers. The group were playing with a double deck.

led to the revocation of or suspension of the license of the alcoholic beverage dealers, while the purchasers have gone free of prosecution.

It is hoped, says the Commission, that the young people of Illinois will heed the warning. Though it is not the desire of the Commission to see youngsters severely penalized, states the Commission, they intend to see that the law is enforced.

Wanted: An Antioch Family

The Antioch Chapter of the American Field Service, sponsoring group of the foreign exchange program at Antioch High School, is looking for prospective families for next year's exchange student, an official of the chapter said this week.

"Our immediate problem," he said, "is locating qualified families who have a desire to participate in the program."

The local program was instituted by the Antioch High School Student Council last year and the council bore the entire burden of the $750 cost.

In issuing the plea for help, chapter president Howard Shepard said, "The qualifications for families are not as stringent as many people think."

"Primarily, every member of the family must want to have a foreign student in their home, and they must furnish at the least a bed of their own. It is desirable that the family has a student in school of the approximate age and class of the foreign student."

"All outside expenses pertaining to the school are handled by local groups of the American Field Service. The student will receive $14 monthly for expenses from AFS and the family may deduct $50 per month from their income taxes."

"The student will arrive some time in August and will live with his or her American family for the entire school year. These students are carefully chosen abroad for their personal qualities. Many times their selection is from literally thousands of applicants."

The procedure for families wishing to participate is to complete an application form showing your desire to house a foreign student for a year. Shortly after the application has been received each member of your family will be interviewed by a committee of the local chapter. The chapter will then submit three selections to AFS in New York who in turn make the final selection.

Application forms for interested families may be obtained from Howard Shepard at The Antioch News office or Mr. Harrison Brown at Antioch High School.

Antioch Switchboard Rescues Richmond Ind.

Illinois Bell Telephone and Western Electric Co. technicians worked around the clock this week-end to rush a switchboard from the old Antioch telephone office at 936 Victoria street to Richmond, Ind., where 18,000 of that community's 26,000 phones were disrupted when fire swept through the Richmond telephone exchange building last Thursday (February 4).

Requests for assistance for General Telephone Co. in Indiana flashed across state lines Thursday night and early Friday morning crews began clearing snow away from the Antioch office. Steel beams fell before the welder's torch, a brick wall was torn down, and inside the Antioch office, telephone men tackled the immense project of readying the 28-position manual switchboard for shipment to Indiana. Ceiling-high frames of equipment and thousands of feet of cable had to be pinned together with the 60-foot switchboard on a framework of 4-inch and 8-inch steel "I" beams. Nineteen telephone and Western Electric Company engineers and craftsmen were joined by a crew of six men from J. C. Muehl-felt & Sons, movers from Wheaton. They worked around the clock from Friday morning through 3 a.m. Sunday morning making one unit out of many, so the entire switchboard and associated equipment could be placed on a special trailer and trucked to Indiana.

By 5 p.m. Saturday, a hole had been ripped out of the front wall of the Antioch office, and 20 tons of equipment was carefully inched with jacks and winches on two 60-foot longleaf fir timbers. Wheels were placed under the 16 by 16-inch timbers, and the entire rig, 90-foot long including the tractor, was ready to roll by 3 a.m. Sunday, awaiting day-break.

Operations were hampered late Saturday afternoon when rain began to fall, and canvasses and plastic wraps were quickly flung over the equipment to prevent any moisture damage to the intricate switching mechanisms.

Special attention was devoted to the traveling rig, because of the thousands of tiny wire connections that must remain intact for the switchboard to be able to be placed into operation as quickly as possible in Richmond, Ind. Joe Muehlfelt, head of the moving firm, said the load would ride with less jostling than one feels in his own family car, because of the great flexibility of the fir timbers and the wheel-and-axle system placed underneath them.

Head of the operation was J. J. Stults of rural West Chicago, maintenance engineering division chief for Illinois Bell's suburban area operations. Stults is a veteran in this type of work, having moved a switchboard of similar size from the company's Northbrook office to Wheeling in 1957. "By moving the board and associated equipment in one piece, we saved weeks of labor dismantling the equipment for separate shipments," he said. "Time was of the essence here, and the board arrived in Richmond about 10:30 p.m. Sunday night, just 74 hours after we learned of the emergency."

With sirens wailing, Illinois State police cars escorted the rig which got under way about 6:30 a.m. Sunday. They traveled east on Highway 173 to the Tri-State Tollway, then south to Indiana and U. S. 41. Indiana Highway 52 was taken to Indianapolis, and Indiana Highway 40 brought the rig to Richmond, just 16 hours and 320 miles later.

Work began shortly thereafter to install the switchboard. Right after the fire, Thursday, the only telephone service in and out of Richmond was provided by Indiana State police radio cars. Then, cars with mobile phones were rushed from Indiana Bell in Indianapolis, and two mobile switching units were brought in from Michigan Bell to provide temporary emergency service. Complete service for the area will be provided by the Illinois Bell switchboard.

"It's indeed fortunate that the Antioch manual switchboard was kept intact after the exchange changed over to dial operation in 1961," said John C. Meng of 2141 Henry St., Glenview, wire chief in charge of installation and maintenance of telephone equipment in Antioch. "This type of switchboard is very flexible, and was preserved for just such emergency use, should one develop in our own territory," Meng pointed out.

"Although the board has not been operated in nearly four years, it should function perfectly with some cleaning up. General Telephone will have to make some adjustments to make our equipment compatible with theirs, but they'll be back in business much sooner than if they had to start from scratch," Meng said.

The chairman pointed out that "an annual health check-up for every adult would have a tremendous effect on reducing the death rate from cancer. Too many people die of cancer today who do not have to die of it. They simply do not take the necessary precautions."

"The 'Tell Your Neighbor' phase of the Crusade can strike a real blow at cancer in Lake County," Mr. Jahneke added. "In fact, he said, 'we are going to try to tell every adult in Lake County to take precautionary action against possible death from cancer. We can do no less.'"

Class of 1955 Plans Reunion

By Louise Gutowski

The Class of '55 of Antioch Community High School is busy planning its ten year reunion. The event will be held Saturday, July 17, at Lorenz's Smart Country House. A family picnic will be held the following day at Fox River Park near Wilmet, Wis.

General chairman for the reunion is Louise Portalski Gutowski and heading the various committees are: Judie Romer Nauman, mailing; Marcia Hogan Palmer and Phyllis Petersen Balisterie, reservations; Sharon Gray Bunkelman and Joanne Wilton Marotta, programs; Mitzie Wolf Haviland, music arrangements. Other workers with these committees are Mike Haviland, Jack Palmer, Warren Brownlee, Fred Clarke, Dorothy Brockway Ballwanz and Joanne Quilty Weber.

The class would like to

Edward Jahneke Named Antioch Cancer Chairman

Mr. Edward Jahneke, Route 59, Antioch, was named chairman of the American Cancer Society's 1965 April Crusade in Antioch.

The announcement was made by Mr. Earl Hagen, who said the chairman's "long interest in cancer control will add vigor to the Crusade against cancer."

"We can expect our most successful educational and fund-raising campaign ever," Mr. Hagen said. "Last year the Society raised $71,054 and distributed over 350,000 educational leaflets in Lake County. This year's goal is $75,000, and Antioch's share of this goal is $1,000."

Chairman Jahneke said he was pleased that the Society was emphasizing the "Tell Your Neighbor" aspect of the campaign. "This means," he said, "that we will do our best through trained volunteers to reach every home with leaflets giving the life-saving facts about cancer and about the Society's programs of education, research and service to the cancer patient. People must know before they can act. Every doorbell must be rung before the Crusade can be considered a success."

Mr. Jahneke admitted he faced a challenge. Cancer will strike 48,000,000 Americans now living if present rates continue. "That alone," he said, "is a big challenge. We could now save one-half of those who develop cancer, but we are saving only one out of three. To achieve our potential requires vast educational, service and persuasive effort."

The chairman pointed out that "an annual health check-up for every adult would have a tremendous effect on reducing the death rate from cancer. Too many people die of cancer today who do not have to die of it. They simply do not take the necessary precautions."

Progress of the tournament can be watched through the Antioch News window again this year. A bracket board showing all the names of the teams will be in the window and progress of the matches carried each week.

Lions Bridge Tourney Slated For February 22

Whether you use the Goren system, the Culbertson system or the Fields-Poulos system we've heard so much about, don't be bashful — try your luck/skill in the Lion Club second annual bridge tournament.

This was the plea handed out by the committee officials in charge of this year's tourney. "We hope to make this year's competition even bigger and more enjoyable than last year's."

Defending champions Mr. and Mrs. John Dupre have already entered and will try to repeat their last year's victory. Runners-up Mrs. Harold Gaston and Mrs. Clyde Queen have also entered the race.

The only major rule change this year affects the pairings for the first round. Instead of the usual diminution pairings, entries will be separated into groups of four teams. Each team will play every other team in the group, thus entries will get to play at least three times instead of two.

Teams in each group with the highest total point score will move into a regular elimination tourney and the second highest score goes into a consolation bracket.

Entries must be in by Friday, February 19 and the first round of group competition will begin Monday, February 22. Teams will have one full week to play each match.

Entry blanks may be obtained from Pres. Reckers at the State Bank of Antioch, Howard Shepard at The Antioch News, Dr. Bobzien or Dr. Kopriva.

Residents of Antioch, Lake Villa, Salem or Trevor are eligible to enter. Dr. Kopriva, chairman of the event,

J. J. STULTS (third from left) of rural West Chicago, closely watches the delicate operation of moving 20 tons of telephone switchboard on two 60-foot timbers. Stults, maintenance engineering division chief for Illinois Bell's suburban area operations, supervised the tremendous task last week-end of moving the switchboard from Antioch, Ill., to Richmond, Ind., where fire last week disrupted service to 18,000 of that community's 26,000 phones. The Bell switchboard will completely restore service to the stricken Indiana town. Technicians under Stults worked around the clock for 74 hours to meet this emergency.

Senator Dirksen Moves To Help Under-Withheld

Millions of taxpayers are discovering that after nearly a year of reduced withholding tax, they now owe Uncle Sam more money than ever before. Some, who ordinarily received refunds, will find that the shoe's on the other foot—they now must mail a check with their income tax return.

Senator Everett Dirksen is attempting to come to their rescue. He has declared his intention of tacking a provision to aid taxpayers onto the first bill that comes to the Senate.

Senator Dirksen would give taxpayers the privilege of paying the portion of their income tax which should have been deducted, and wasn't, in installments over the next year. The employer would deduct a specified amount from each pay check over and above the normal deduction to pay the taxpayer's debt to the government.

Sen. Dirksen also intends to back legislation for a graduated income tax deduction, so that the higher-income taxpayer wouldn't be hit with a big payment each April 15.

A good many taxpayers will appreciate Senator Dirksen's efforts. As the Senator points out, the deficiency in the amounts withheld is not the fault of the taxpayer, but of Congress. The cut in withholding tax was intended as a pep-up pill for the economy, and, says Dirksen, "I do not believe that we should inflict a hardship upon some taxpayers simply because a benefit was to be provided for someone else."

If you'd like to see the good senator get his bill through Congress, you might back him up with a letter supporting his action.

Have you joined the hundreds enjoying the new low carbohydrate diet yet? It seems to be the main topic of conversation wherever you go.

Of course the main appeal seems to be the provision that you can have all the gin or whiskey you want as long as you don't use too much mix and you can also eat all the meat you desire.

As one character put it, the dieters are all going to turn into meat-eating alcoholics.

The Republican caucus in Avon Township last week was a sharp departure from the rousing meeting two years ago which saw Norman Geary edged out by Melvin (Moon) Mullins in the contest for GOP endorsement for Avon Supervisor.

A comparatively small turnout two years ago gave Mullins the nomination over bitter protests and amid cries of "rigging" and "skulduggery."

Despite the endorsement, however, Mullins lost the election to Geary and now the Grayslake investment counsel is throwing his support to Lee Harper, of Round Lake, who won the nomination for assistant supervisor over Mullins, the incumbent.

This year's caucus was orderly, well-attended and there was a spirit of harmony, tempered perhaps with disappointment, at the conclusion.

Mullins, whose seniority on the county board has brought him the chairmanship of the Public Works Department committee, reportedly plans to run for the office despite being sidetracked by the Avon Republicans.

The rotund Mullins will probably try to be slayed by a non-partisan party being organized and if not, he is expected to run independently.

Many Cook county townships followed the Lake county lead and, at the suggestion of Cook County Central Committee chairman Tim Sheehan, have entered slates of candidates in township races there. According to Sheehan this should widen the base of the GOP at the "grass roots" and give greater continuity to political action at the township level.

You have to give it to County Board Chairman Kenneth Henke, when he makes up his mind to something he keeps going after it.

The Benton Township Supervisor had been in the chairman's office only two months when he announced that he thought the county taverns should close an hour earlier.

After a meeting with representatives of the Tavern Owners Association of Lake County he dropped the proposal only to introduce a resolution curtailing operations at the September meeting of the board.

Antioch Supervisor Lloyd Murrie secured a delay on action and in the interim the tavern operators and beer and liquor distributors marshaled arguments which resulted in the resolution being tabled.

The pub owners thought the matter had been settled, but now Henke is back with the same recommendation. There are some cynics who wonder aloud about Henke's sincerity in pushing the earlier closing hours since it is not uncommon for a lawmaker to propose legislation with the expectation that he will be "convinced" to withdraw it at a later date and after suitable discussions.

Chicago's Mayor Richard J. Daley has never been especially noted as a wit, but he came up with a comedy line the other day that would do credit to a Bob Hope or Jackie Gleason.

The Democratic leader dead-panned that "The Republicans are playing politics with re-apportionment in the state legislature."

You have to like a political leader who can produce a line like that while maintaining a serious and pious mien. State Rep. Howard Slater (D-Highland Park) has intro-

Your Congressman Reports...

An active and spirited experience is anticipated by this Member of Congress, while serving during the present session as a new member of the House Judiciary Committee. Many of the most controversial and sensitive subjects will be aired before this committee.

Of the Constitutional amendments to be considered by the committee, two such propositions are aimed at overcoming recent decisions of the United States Supreme Court. First, of course, is the proposed Constitutional amendment to permit states to apportion one chamber of their state legislatures on a basis other than population. The second proposal would amend Article I of the Bill of Rights to permit prayer and Bible reading in the public schools.

The archaic electoral college system is the target for still another Constitutional amendment. This would assure a more accurate translation of the popular votes into the actual selection of our nation's President and Vice President.

Perhaps the most controversial measure to be reviewed by the committee this year will be the Administration's proposed amendments to the Immigration laws to permit a pooling of national quotas and the admission of immigrants primarily on the basis of their skills.

Another area for extensive hearings by the committee will be a proposed revision of our Federal copyright laws. Bills to change the method of Presidential succession will also be on the agenda.

These specific subjects are in addition to the general jurisdiction which the committee will exercise over (a) claims against the government, (2) private immigration

If the Republican Senate hews to traditional behavior, however, it will be scuttled because "The" corporations would only pass the cost along to the public anyhow."

ALONG THE WAY with Annie Mae

This may be the month for Groundhogs, Heart's and Flowers, but as far as I'm concerned it's strictly for the birds. Why is it just about the time we begin looking forward to Spring, this month called February always has to lift beneath the belt? By the way, while we are on the subject of Valentines, (we weren't we?), whatever happened to those devilish comic ones we used to take so much care selecting? Remember they only cost a penny, and it was the surest way we knew of getting even with someone who we were certain had done us an injustice!

THE LATEST REPORT: First of all, that pretty yellow car of Bette Meyer's may not have turned black-and-blue, but it sure had all its front teeth knocked out! ... With the "goof-ball" incident in the Chicago area, it was bound to bring forth rumors of "pushers" and "users" around this area. So far they have only been rumors, but it would be wise for all parents to keep a watchful eye for any signs of this illicit traffic, and report any suspicious to the authorities at once! ... Wait till Fran and Home LaPlant return from the sunny south and see the magnificent lake Mother Nature endowed them with in their absence. ... We heard there were some members of our Village who don't know the Rescue Squad telephone number, and so for their benefit we are hereby printing it: 395-2141. ... bargaining continues for a very large parcel of land adjoining the business district!

NOTES TO YOU: Les Nelson reportedly "doing nicely" over in Victory, Mem., but as of today still has a "no visitors" sign on his door. ... reddest face this week must have been Ray Toft's when his tow-truck decided to go on "strike". ... the biggest "wheelers" met the biggest "dealers" recently, when the Auto Dealers held a convention in Las Vegas. John and Irene Teresi and Walker and Rosalie Lyons were among those on hand. ... Off street parking for the "Middle of Main" seems closer to becoming a reality, every day, due to the cooperation of the C. of C., Village Board, and the Main St. merchants themselves. Bravo!

THE LAST DROP: If you think it seems like there are a lot of folks missing lately, you are absolutely right, for we have friends and neighbors in Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Florida, California and even London at this moment. However, we won't mention any of your names until you return, and I recover from my jealous spasm!!

Letters to the Editor

February 4, 1965

To the Editor:

Most people write to you to complain or criticize our public servants, but as long as they do their work well nothing is said. However, I believe that praise for work well done should be given. I am referring to the prompt and excellent services rendered by all members of the Antioch Public Works Dept. This past week in particular, as well as in the past, my hat is off to you fellows who braved the elements, and in below zero weather mounted your equipment and plowed the city streets.

Now, for those of you who may be grumbling about the mounds of snow still piled along the edge of the streets, if you don't want to walk around them, then do as I did—climb over them. It can be done. Just ask Dr. Kopriya, my physician who witnessed my accomplishment with both surprise and maybe amusement. Then try to make your own sidewalks safe for those that must walk them.

Let it be forgotten, MR. POSTMAN, also, deserves a big vote of thanks. During the days that we scarcely stuck our noses outside—there he was each day—plodding through ice and snow storms with his heavy pack on his back, and the same familiar smile that was almost frozen on his face—like the pony express of old. As a senior citizen that really enjoys walking each day, regardless of the weather, I would not have been able to do even the necessary shopping had the streets not been cleared so well. May I also add? Walking can be fun, as well as a tonic for the whole system. It's a pity that so many Americans have forgotten how to walk. This little poem sums up my thoughts on this subject:

"God gave us legs to walk with though one would never guess. We're a riding generation, lacking the will and vest To walk when e're the weather begins to rain or snow. And even when it's sunny—where we go—the car goes."

The beauty of it, of course, goes deeper than the things you don't get. There's the other side of the coin—what you do get in their place.

Take the no window post, for example. What you do get is hardtop styling—with curved frameless side windows—in every Corvair closed model.

The transmission and driveline hump you don't get means more foot room. Thanks to Corvair's rear engine, the floor is practically flat.

No radiator—the engine's air-cooled—also means no water, no antifreeze and no hose leaks to worry about. All of which add up to some more important pluses.

Power steering? Power brakes? Corvair needs them like a centipede needs crutches. With most of the engine weight on the rear wheels, the front ones are free to steer easily. And stops are quick and sure—with no flossing.

"YOU CAN TRUST YOUR CHILD TO GOD"

Children need all the love we can give them, but sometimes the very closeness of parent and child results in a burden of fear where a child's health is concerned. This inspiring program tells how to overcome this fear and actually improve a child's health.

Rules Of Antioch Lions Club Bridge Tournament

1. The tournament will be played between teams of two partners each. These can be husband and wife, two women, two men, etc. Each participant will be allowed to enter on one team only.
2. The entrance fee is $5.00 per team. The entry fee and official entry blank must be turned in to the Antioch News office or committee members: Preston Rockers, Jr., Dr. Fred Bobzien, Howard Shepard, Dr. J. W. Kopriva by 5 p.m. February 10.
3. The first round of the tournament will begin on Monday, February 22, 1965.
4. Teams will be put in groups of 4. Each team will play the 3 other teams in the group (one team each week). The team of each group of 4 which has the highest point score total for the 3 matches will advance to a championship elimination tournament. The team having the second highest point score will go to a consolation elimination tournament.
5. Thus each team will play at least 3 matches in the tournament.
6. Matches in the elimination tournament will be played at the rate of one per week.
7. Games in each round are to be played between 8 a.m. Monday and 8 a.m. the following Monday. A week will be allowed for each round with winners progressing to the following rounds. All scores must be in the hands of the committee or The Antioch News by noon on the following Thursday.
8. Groups of opponents will be selected by lot. Opponents will be listed in The Antioch News window and will also be notified by phone.
9. Opponents should arrange between themselves as to the time and place of their match. This may be in their homes or elsewhere.
10. Each match will consist of 18 consecutive hands.
11. There may be only one re-deal (after 4 passes) in the 18 hands. If all players pass a second time, the hand will be played as an open no trump, i.e., all hands are concealed (no dummy), play to left of dealer leads, and play continues as usual. Score is won by team taking most tricks in that hand and scored as 1 no trump below the line. All overtricks are scored above the line.

10. All hands must be played out. NO LAYDOWNS.
11. All conventional bridge rules apply. In case of dispute, these are to be referred to committee, whose decision will be final.
12. Conventional bridge scoring applies. If at the end of 18 hands a team has a game on the rubber uncompleted, they are given 300 points for this.

Each team should keep score. Scores must be turned in with all 4 players signing same. No score will be changed for any reason after they are turned in.

13. If a team is unable to play their round in the week allowed, they forfeit the match to their opponents.
14. All players must be residents of Antioch, Lake Villa, Salem or Trevor Townships.
15. If a partner is ill, a player may choose a substitute not already entered in the tournament. Committee member must be notified in advance.
16. It is anticipated that the tournament will end some time in April, depending on the number of teams entered.

Finals will be played between the two remaining teams in the Championship and Consolation rounds. Time and place will be announced later. This will be open to the public as spectators this year.

17. A handsome trophy will be awarded the first and second place winners in the Championship round, and an engraved plaque to the winner of the Consolation round. These will be awarded at an early meeting of the Antioch Lions Club. Winners are invited to be the Lions' guests for dinner on that night.

18. During play no bidding guides may be used. Partners should not discuss hands during bidding or playing of hand. Good sportsmanship leads to a more enjoyable time for all.

Legion Auxiliary

By Del Jahneke

During the coming year, the American Legion Auxiliary is going to intensify its support of the American Legion's Legislative program, according to Mrs. Lester Zikus, Legislative chairman for Antioch Unit No. 748.

The American Legion at its last National Convention mandated the submission to the 89th Congress of proposed legislation dealing with combating the spread of communism; a Constitutional amendment to permit prayers in public schools; many bills benefiting veterans and their children—as well as all children, especially the handicapped and abused; and legislation for military preparedness and making life in the services more attractive; and the continuation of selective service.

Members of the Antioch Unit are kept well informed on the progress of this proposed legislation through a National Legislative Bulletin published at frequent intervals by the American Legion in Washington, D.C., to which our local unit is a subscriber.

Antioch High Students "Wired For Learning"

By Dennis Sullivan

"Mrs. Scott, I'm finished with drilling on unit four. Would you please switch me to channel three for drill on unit five?" "Miss Beattie, may I practice taking dictation at 55 words per minute. I can take 50 words per minute with no trouble now."

These are some of the comments you would hear from students at Antioch Community High School who are taking Spanish, German, Shorthand or Notehand. The method of instruction in these courses has changed substantially since Antioch High has installed language laboratories.

The Audio-Lingual method of instruction is now used in the foreign languages. In this method the focus of instruction at the beginning of the courses is on speaking the language rather than on memorizing rules of grammar.

This is the way all of us learned to use English. As two year olds we were not taught grammar rules, we simply began imitating the sounds we heard our parents make. It wasn't until later that we began learning rules to help us use our language more precisely. This is the method of instruction that can be nearly duplicated using a language laboratory.

In the lab, the teacher has a bank of tape recorders, usually three or four, and a master console that controls the recorders and student stations. The student stations consist of a headset and microphone with volume controls for each.

In using the lab the teacher plays "programs" for the students. A program might consist of a series of tape recorded words or phrases spoken by an expert in pronunciation and articulation. After the student hears the word pronounced by the expert he then pronounces the word during a blank portion of the tape. Once again the expert says the word to give the student a chance to check his pronunciation with the expert's.

While the students are responding to the program the classroom teacher can listen in on individual students to give more intense drill on a particular sound. If the teacher feels that the student is having difficulties with the present program he might switch him to an easier program for review purposes. In this way students can receive much more individual help by the teacher than under more traditional methods of instruction.

Antioch Community High School presently has four language laboratories; one each for German, Spanish, Shorthand, and a general laboratory in the library.

The library laboratory, installed just this year, is unique in that students have an opportunity to use their study periods for improving their verbal ability during non-class time. Unlike the classroom situation, the library installation has no teacher present, only student operators to run the recorders. Antioch is one of the first schools in the area to offer this type of laboratory situation to its students.

It has been proven by many educational studies that language laboratories increase the learning process anywhere from 22% to 50%. Miss Dora Beattie, Business Department Chairman, attests to the value of the Shorthand Laboratory. "Since we have installed the lab I have noticed much faster progress by students taking Shorthand and Notehand."

Collect Data On Child Care

Information on the arrangements made by working mothers in the U. S. for the care of their children will be obtained in the Bureau of the Census February Current Population Survey, according to Director Theodore F. Olson of the Bureau's regional office in Chicago.

The questions on child care will supplement the regular monthly inquiries on employment and unemployment obtained for the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The information will be collected during the work week starting February 15 from selected households in this area as well as other sample areas throughout the U. S.

The child care survey, is the first made since 1958, is sponsored jointly by the Children's Bureau of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare and the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor. Working mothers in the survey will be asked for such information as: Who usually looks after your child while you are working? How old is the person who does your baby sitting? How many hours a week was the child cared for under this arrangement? Did the arrangement cover all the time you were away at work? If not, who looked after the child the rest of the time? How much did you pay for the care of the child?

TO ENTER HOSPITAL Roy Kufalik, Antioch's Postmaster, will be entering Victory Memorial Hospital Sunday evening where he is scheduled to undergo surgery on his leg Monday morning.

Water Levels Decline In Northern Illinois

Water levels have continued to decline in wells throughout northeastern Illinois during the last year, according to William C. Ackermann, chief of the Illinois State Water Survey.

Increasingly heavy demands on water supplies in this high population area have caused water levels to go down in both deep sandstone wells and the shallow aquifer wells, Ackermann said.

The Water Survey's preliminary analysis of last year's records show that water levels in the deep sand-

Heart Fund Goal $1,300. In Antioch

The goal of the 1965 Heart Fund Drive in Antioch will be $1,300, Mrs. John Gudgel, Heart Fund Chairman, revealed today.

Dr. Alan Thain is the local physician chairman of the Heart Fund.

Fifteen years have come and gone since the people of this country decided to stop merely talking about heart disease and to start doing something about it. A truly massive research assault was launched against this—the foremost health problem of our time—in 1950. In these 15 years, how far have we progressed? What has been accomplished?

Today, we have statistical evidence that we may have turned the corner in our effort to protect the hearts of American men in their prime years of 45 through 64. Here, since 1950, there has been a relatively sustained decline in the death rate from cardiovascular disease, which adds up to about 7 1/2%.

To appreciate the significance of this decline, it must be realized that prior to 1950 the cardiovascular death rate had been spiraling up. Surprisingly, the decline was achieved despite a 4.3 per cent increase in the death rate from heart attack among men in this age bracket. But the rate of death from high blood pressure and the heart disease it causes dropped 49.9 per cent, and that from stroke 25.6 per cent. These dramatic improvements were largely responsible for a net decline of 7 1/2 per cent.

Among women of the same age, the decline was even more spectacular—a drop of 56 per cent in the death rate associated with high blood pressure, and a decrease of 35 per cent in that from stroke. Probably the largest single factor in this important achievement was our recently discovered and newly-applied knowledge that most cases of high blood pressure can be controlled under medical supervision. Mainly, this involves drugs and diet changes. Improved treatment obviously has had a favorable effect on the stroke picture since some strokes occur as a complication of high blood pressure. Additionally other aspects of the cardiovascular picture have improved thanks to procedures which prevent repeat attacks of rheumatic fever, the use of artery grafts and artificial heart valves, effective methods for combating such once-fatal disorders as bacterial endocarditis.

Happily, the decline in the cardiovascular death rate during this decade and a half was not confined to men and women in their prime-of-life. Over the same period the cardiovascular death rate for those aged 5-24 declined 35 per cent. For those aged 25-44, it decreased 10 per cent. As a result of these advances people everywhere acquired not only a new measure of hope but also a new feeling of determination to speed the conquest of heart and blood vessel disease, with their Heart Association serving as the central and spearheading force behind the effort. Moreover, in these 15 years, it has become apparent for the first time that the average man can do certain things to reduce his risk of heart attack.

NIU-H.S. Personnel Meet To Discuss Working Relationship

Superintendent Albert Dittman is among those who attended a meeting of High School and College personnel at the Northern Illinois University in DeKalb recently.

The meeting was the first of two such meetings designed to develop a close working relationship between NIU and area high schools.

Dr. Arthur C. Muns, administrative assistant to the NIU president, said the meeting is designed to provide background of the new student and how he succeeds at the University. This is to identify problems that both University and secondary school personnel can attack jointly.

Muns, also chairman of the School-University Articulation Committee of NIU, said the new student background may help us determine the subject matter areas around which early articulation conferences might be built and other activities that may be planned by this committee to bring about a better articulation between the secondary schools of this area and NIU.

18-Year-Olds Must Register With Local Draft Boards

All young men are required by law to register with Selective Service within five days after reaching their 18th birthday. A youth failing to do so may be declared a delinquent and ordered for immediate induction into the Army.

This warning was issued today by Harold D. Blackwell, chairman of Lake County Local Board No. 151.

Mr. Blackwell pointed out that the obligation to register applies not only to citizens of the United States, but also to aliens, except a few exempt by law. Aliens not exempt must register within six months after entering the United States. Men discharged from the Armed Forces must register within 30 days after discharge unless they registered previously.

A man may register at any Selective Service local board. Mr. Blackwell said, The Lake County Board is located at 203 Water Street, Waukegan. If away from home, a man may register at the nearest local board anywhere in the United States.
